Pastors In Transition
Creating vital congregations that make disciples of Jesus Christ, who make disciples equipped to transform lives, communities and the world.

NOTES:

Pastoral Transition Covenant

The intention of this covenant is to act as a reminder of the importance of the relationship between pastor and congregation. To ensure a healthy transition from the current appointed pastor to the new appointed pastor all must exercise great self-restraint in order to allow for a relationship where the newly appointed pastor has the best opportunity to be effective in the service of our Lord Jesus. As the keepers of “order” in the church, Elders are charged with setting the example for all transitions in both word and deed.

The expectation of the exiting pastor includes a responsibility to:

- Allow ourselves time to grieve the end of a pastoral and congregational relationship.
- Demonstrate “Radical Hospitality” in welcoming the incoming pastor, and providing essential information about the congregation that will aid the transition.
- Bear the primary responsibility for maintaining healthy boundaries as the “former pastor.”
- Discourage intentional contact with former members where the new pastor is criticized.
- Be supportive of your successor in all online commenting, texting, phone calls, etc.
- Understanding that, for the sake of the ongoing ministry of the church, some people may need to “unfriend” on Facebook or “unfollow” on Twitter and/or find ways to remove undue social media visibility.
- As a former pastor, you will not come back and function in a pastoral role in your previous mission field, unless invited by the current pastor. This is especially true in the case of weddings, funerals and hospital visits.
- Exit in a timely manner and leave the parsonage in better shape than you found it. Provide the Trustee and Pastor Parish Chairs a list of needed repairs or maintenance items and use what political capital you have to make certain the parsonage meets the needs of the new pastor’s family.

As covenant partners, both new appointed pastors and exiting pastors are expected to:

- Hold one another in prayer.
- Either speak positively or remain silent in public or private communications regarding one another. We are in a covenant as United Methodist Pastors.

Preparing to Say Hello

1. Prayer
2. Reflection
3. Introductory letter
4. Baton Passing Meeting
5. Get Curious: Information Packet, Demographic & Statistical Data, Church History, etc.
6. Sermon Plan: What are you trying to communicate?
7. Plan for Intentional forming of relationships: Cottage Meetings or Listening Tour

Saying Hello

1. Begin with love
2. First Sunday
3. MOVE IN
4. Committees
5. Mission Field Tour
6. Cottage Meetings

Cottage Meeting Notecards
- What is one thing I need to know about the church?
- What is one way we are going to reach new people?
- What is one dream you have for the church?

Top Ten List of What NOT to Do!

10. Don’t begin your conversations with, “In my last church, we did it this way…”
9. Don’t say, “Is this it?” when you visit the church/parsonage the first time.
8. Don’t ask for a raise before you move into the office.
7. Don’t ask the Chair of the SPR, “Why would anyone want to live in this town?”
6. Don’t move the chancel furniture or the pews or the flags or anything else your first week in the church.
5. Don’t criticize the previous pastor.
4. Don’t begin your first sermon with a detailed list of things you do not/will not do.
3. Don’t turn down gifts of food—even if you aren’t going to eat it!
2. Don’t be late for worship!
1. Don’t forget you have two ears and one mouth—use in that proportion!

Celebration & “Momentum” During the Baton Passing Season

INTENTIONALITY:

- Social Media Campaign (Coordinate with Current Pastor)
- Videos for Worship or Social Media
- Local Community Newspaper
- Q & A or Introduction Letters
- Signing up for the Cottage Meetings
- Scheduled Guest Visits to Local Community Groups with a Member

Pastors In Transition
Creating vital congregations that make disciples of Jesus Christ, who make disciples equipped to transform lives, communities and the world.

A culture is a way of life of a group of people—the behaviors, beliefs, values, and symbols that they accept, generally without thinking about them, and that are passed along by imitation and communication from one generation to the next.

Table Talk: Your Saying Goodbye & Hello Action Plan

Recommended Coaching Questions:

1. If saying goodbye is on one end of a continuum and saying hello on the other end, where are you right now?

2. What would a winning baton-passing look like for you?

3. Take a few minutes to make a list of what you need to do for this move. How does seeing the list make you feel? Which two things will make the most difference for a healthy transition out of and into the mission field?

4. What will be your theme in the new appointment?

5. What items in your appointment letter excite you? What will you do about the things that are not exciting?

6. What do you already know that will help you make a good move?

7. What do you need to learn? What resources do you need?
Types of MissionInsight Reports

FullInsight
A comprehensive demographic profile of a study area with over 30 pages of population, household, family household, and housing data. Integrates table data, graphs and analytical text.

QuickInsight
Colorful 11 page report including the New MOSAIC lifestyle types as well as current year estimates, five year projections and ten year forecasts of selected population and household characteristics.

ExecutiveInsight
ExecutiveInsight is unique as a data report because it reads like a narrative story accompanied by graphs and tables. It is built around “12 Insites” into a community or areas of study. It falls between QuickInsight and FullInsight.

ReligiousInsight and MinistryInsight
There are two reports in the Quadrennium Survey series for 2017. The first report is called ReligiousInsight. It provides insights into community beliefs and religious preferences. The second report is called MinistryInsight. The focus of this report is on practical applications of the 2017 survey. It includes life concerns, reasons for non-participation or considered non-participation in a religious congregation or community and a list of preferred ministries or programs—all of which is based upon the very specific profile of the study area.

Demographics NEXT STEPS:
1. How will you introduce this kind of information in your congregation?

2. What process will you use to discern the relationship of your new church and the mission field?

3. How can you use the “mosaic” and Bandy tools to discover the “Gaps” between congregation & neighborhood so that you can better Look Like Your Neighborhood and Grow by One in worship, professions, groups, and outreach?
Insite #1: Population & Household Trends:
Is the population in your study area increasing or decreasing? Whether it is stable or changing, what impact does this have on your ministry decisions?
For additional insight on population change, divide the Percent Change by the number of years to find the Annualized Percent Change. For example if the projected population change is 7.8% over the next five years, divide 7.8 (the projected % change) by 5 (the number of years projected) or 1.5% change per year. How does this compare with the Annualized Percent Change for your congregation over the same intervals? What does this say about your ministry? Is the population per household increasing or decreasing? As households change, how does that affect the ministry needs of the area?

Insite #2: Racial & Ethnic Trends:
What does the racial/ethnic distribution of your study area suggest to you? Does the information suggest the need for additional current year detail for the Asian and/or Hispanic/Latino groups? This information is available under the “Diversity” tab in the “Build Your Own Report” section of the Demographics page. The Diversity tab also includes Ancestry and Language spoken at home information.
Consider the percent change of the racial ethnic group that reflects your congregation, as a component of the percent change for the overall population for your area. How might this affect your future missional plans?

Insite #3: Age Trends:
Which phase of life segment(s) is/are the largest and/or growing in your study area? How does your current missional emphasis connect with each group? How does the average age of the people attending worship in your congregation compare with the report area?
Which phase of life segment is smallest or declining? How does this affect your current and future missional priorities? What kind of opportunity does each category suggest such as Before Formal Schooling?

Insite #4: School-Aged Children Trends:
How might these trends impact your various school age ministries? What are the trends for each of the three individual categories?
Are your current children and youth ministries designed to reach and impact these population groups?

Insite #5: Household & Family Income Trends:
What is the economic environment of the report area? What does it suggest regarding the economic resources available for ministry needs? Also see Insite #11 for additional information related to charitable giving.
Which family income categories are projected to grow fastest or decrease the fastest over the next 5 years? How do you perceive this affecting family ministry plans for the future?
What is the Asset/Debt message for this report area?

See Next Page for Insites #6-12
ExecutiveInsight Report:
12 Insites, 12 Possible Questions for you & Your SPRC/Board

Insight #6: Household & Children Trends:
Is your report area stable or are there changes taking place in the structure of households with children? Does this information confirm or change your understanding of household structure with children in this area? What ministry issues are associated with each group?

Insight #7: Marital Status Trends:
What percentage of the adult (15+) population is present in each of the 5 categories? Are there surprises in the number of persons in any of the groups? How do the ministry efforts of your church correspond to each of the groups? Does this information suggest any new opportunities?

Insight #8: Adult Educational Attainment:
What is the message of educational attainment for your church? Which groups are represented in your congregation? What can you learn from this information to strengthen your ministry in this area? How may educational attainment affect worship or educational ministries in your church? How can this information assist leadership to minister in this area?

Insight #9: Population by Employment:
Which occupations are prevalent in your area? How are these groups represented in your congregation? How might leaders from each of these can these occupations strengthen your ministry?

Insight #10: Mosaic Household Types:
What are the top MOSAIC household types in the report area? Beginning with the largest type, how many types are present to represent 75% of the households? Is this your ministry target? Is your ministry targeting a group or groups that are not in the majority? How does the index identify the unique household characteristics of this area? See the MOSAIC Type guide for descriptions of each type. Utilize the Bandy Mission Impact Guide for in depth descriptions of how to connect ministry to each group. These tools are located under “HELP.”

Insight #11: Charitable Giving Practices:
“For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.” (Luke 12:34 NRSV) Where do the people in your area place their treasures? Given this information and income information from Insight #5 how does this inform the financial issues of your ministry?

Insight #12: Religious Practices:
How do you see the presence of the religious practices and their reference to the state averages informing your ministry? What would it mean if “Important to Attend Religious Services” was well above or below the state average? What impact would a higher than average score for “My Faith is Really Important to Me” mean to ministry planning?
Counting & Measuring: Gil Rendle

“Counting is giving attention to numbers. When counting, the question to be answered is “how many? Counting enables us to discern how well we’re providing resources and experiences for ministry.”

“Measuring is giving attention to change. When measuring, the question is not about “how many?” but rather about “how far?” Measuring enables us to discern how well we’re making disciples as a result of our ministries.”

Questions to Ponder about Metrics

1. What is your attitude toward the use of metrics? What has shaped that attitude?
2. What are you currently measuring? How do these metrics relate to your ministry vision?
3. Do you communicate results to other leaders? To the leadership of the church? Is this communication effective?
4. What is one thing you would like to know but currently don’t have a metric for? Why is this important? How might you create an "intelligent and consistent" way to measure it?

METRICS: Data ➔ Information ➔ Knowledge ➔ Wisdom

Metrics NEXT STEPS:
1. How will you introduce this kind of information in your congregation?
2. What process will you use to discern the relationship of your new church and the mission field?
TABLE TALK: Using Statistics and Demographics as Conversation Tools

What is your ACTION PLAN for sharing & using Demographic & Statistical Data with the leadership of your new church?

1. How will you introduce this kind of information in your congregation?

2. What process will you use to discern the relationship of your new church and the mission field?

My NEXT STEP for using Demographic and Statistical Metrics is:
